DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 51-53 and 55 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicants argument regarding the priority date is persuasive. The examiner granted priority however he read the wrong date and applied 6/23/99 as the priority date instead of 06/26/98. The examiner is hereby accepting 06/26/98 as the priority date.

Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 51 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kodama et al PN 5,532,563.

In regards to claims 51 and 53: Kodama et al teaches an information processing apparatus (1) comprising a processing unit (5-8, 10-12, 16, 17,) which executes processing of data from a power supplying apparatus (4 which includes 2 within it Abstract); and a power control unit (3, 9, 13, 14, 16, 17) comprising: a connector (2b and the connection between 4 and 16) which receives the data (inherent) and an external power (2) from power supplying apparatus

Art Unit: 2112

(4); a limiter (9) which limits the external power from the power supplying apparatus (4) to the processing unit, for providing to the power control unit; and a power providing unit (2) which provides power for executing the processing (5 or 16) by the processing unit (5 or 16), the provided power generated by adding a power supplied from a battery (3) into a power supplied from the source (2) in a case where a necessary power for the processing unit (5 or 16) and power control unit exceeds the external power supplied from the power supplying apparatus (abstract).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 52 and 55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kodama et al PN 5,532,563 in view of The USB specification Revision 1.0.

In regards to claims 52 and 55: Kodama et al only teaches the amount of current is limited by the up stream source. Kodama et al does not expressly state this is because of a standard. USB standard teaches limiting the current provided to peripherals (Sect 7.2 see specifically fig 7-24). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use USB as the connection type because this would have provided for a popular standard.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

PN 6,100,874 to Schena et al teaches a USB peripheral that includes a battery to boost power due to the power limit of the USB standard.

PN 5,818,948 to Gulick teaches a USB speaker that includes a local power supply to power to power the speaker due to the limit of the USB standard.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
